Execution-only accounts have been around for years; today's technology is extremely efficient, reliable and above all - secure. However, we find many clients are still uncomfortable with these types of accounts for a number of reasons, including:

- Some Investors get absorbed by the technology and forget they are using real money
- There is no relationship between an on-line account holder and a professional manager, leaving investors isolated when it comes to investment decisions
- Novices not familiar with the intricacies of capital markets can make costly mistakes

Cost-efficiency is one of the most prominent features of internet based platform accounts; improving returns which helps investors achieve the returns they seek. Spare cash, or retirement plan, investing is a serious business so every percentage point saved counts when it comes to results.

The platform we use is designed with the professional manager in mind, which can be daunting at times, which is why our continued presence is greatly appreciated by being available to be on hand throughout the entire process, including;

- Account opening procedure
- Initial risk profile and asset selection
- Ongoing management, advice and support

We issue instructions on the investors' behalf on a number of exchanges around the world using a completely automated process. The platform offers direct market access to:

- Stocks, Bonds, ETF'S & CEF'S
